DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-2 and 5, drawn to an isolated peptide, classified in class 514, subclass 12.
  - II. Claims 3-4, drawn to an isolated nucleic acid, classified in class 536, subclass 23.1
  - III. Claims 6-15, drawn to a method for treating or preventing disorders associated with voltage gated ion channels, classified in class 514, subclass 12.
2. The polynucleotides of Group II are related to the polypeptides of Group I by virtue of the fact that polynucleotides codes for the protein. The polynucleotides have utility for the recombinant production of the protein in a host cell. Although the polynucleotide and the protein are related, since the polynucleotide encodes the specifically claimed protein, they are distinct inventions because the protein product can be made by other and materially distinct processes, such as purification from the natural source. Further, polynucleotides can be used for processes other than the production of protein, such as nucleic acid hybridization assays.
3. The polypeptides of Groups I are related to the methods of Groups III as product and process of use. The inventions can be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the polypeptides of Groups I can be used in a method of making an antibody or in activity assays which are materially different methods than a method for treating patients with voltage gated ion channel disorders.

Restriction Requirement Applicable to all Groups

4. Furthermore, in claims 1-15 the presence of multiple polypeptide sequences, each with a different SEQ ID NO: allows for a variety of patentably distinct products. Depending on the sequence of each polypeptide, the characteristics of the resulting molecule will vary in regards to structure and function. Each one of these polypeptides is capable of eliciting a specific immune response and can be used to produce a specific antibody. Therefore these polypeptides are patentably distinct absent factual evidence to the contrary. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single SEQ ID NO: for prosecution on the merits.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of SEQ ID NO: that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. The applicant should be aware that selection of a single SEQ ID NO: represents a response to a restriction requirement, not an election of species.

Art Unit: 1653

5. Having shown that these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and recognized divergent subject matter as defined by MPEP § 808.02, the Examiner has prima facie shown a serious burden of search (see MPEP § 803).

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Shawn Hamidinia whose telephone number is (571) 272-4534. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon-Fri from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
